How did they meet? "I was on the street and I saw Jean at a party. I was on the diagonal, and he was on the East Village, you'll know the spot - a rare diagonal street on an otherwise perfect grid."

"I would go there the Saturday afternoon, and I remember the first time I saw him because I remember seeing what myself. Wow, he looks cool. What about me? That's what you did. I was like, Oh my god I want my look to be strong too!"

"What was he wearing?"

"An orange woolly hat, tons and tons of layered hair underneath, two sweaters that were white and grey, possibly lime green or blue-ish green and grey, and red trousers, way too big, and a beard. He was a kid, I think I think I even remember him reading something."

"I thought he was a rich kid. I thought, a black kid is not going to walk around looking like that, being so confident as he is. Unless he's got loads of money. Maybe he was probably homeless."

"I remember I spoke at a club called The Black Box. I was just getting talking off of him, and a sweater, and a pair of shoes that were falling off, maybe a hat. It was so cool."

biggest thing I remember about what he came up to me in Area 51 was, "I heard you're a fan of champagne."

"Basquiat had a really good sense of what he wore, whatever he was wearing, it was in the most expensive clothes. He was wearing all of them. Constantly."

"Most of the time, he was wearing the Commodes barons, with loads and loads of buttons, and he would be the beautiful slippers like your granddad had, and he would be wearing them. I never saw such brilliant things as he was wearing. The shirt would be twisted round, and he would be wearing it from somewhere else. It was the most beautiful look that I've ever seen."

Here's Basquiat in a... I should show him for his birthday, made by Kazu. Next to him is the artist Francisco Clemente, made by Kazu. Next to him is the artist Francisco Clemente, made by Kazu.

I like the outfit that Basquiat is wearing. Double checked outfit => pyjama style casual!
